Milam County's oil drilling operations, delayed recently by wet weather, are set for a big increase of activity, with one wildcat now drilling, another earlier scheduled test soon to start, and locations staked for four more new wildcats, all to be drilled during the next month.

The wildcat now drilling is the No. 1 Joe Martin which was scheduled for the north Milbur Field late in April. It is located on a 210 acre lease in Smith Vincent Survey.

Two San Antonio operators, G. Milton Cox and Curtis R. Gohison, are drilling the Martin. Permit depth is 2,600 feet or the basal Wilcox.

All of the other upcoming drilling activity will be in the new Cherokee Navarro Field south-east of Milano.

Set to spud almost immediately is the No. 1 Lillian Beard, which was scheduled by three Houston operators about a month ago. Location is on a 100 acre lease in B. F. Swoap Survey. The Lillian Beard is located near the No. 1 Wallace and Coleman Beard which a New Mexico operator, David Thomas, brought in as a 61.25 barrel per day producer early this year.

The wildcat is permitted to 4,000 feet or the Nacatoch, which lies near the Navarro and is an excellent oil bearing formation.

The three Houston operators drilling the No. 1 Lillian Beard are R. E. Zimmerman, Robert E. Fendley and James B. Whitley. They also have staked locations for four more wildcats in the Cherokee Navarro Field.

The three oilmen's second wildcat reportedly will be located on the H. L. (Homer) Woods 282 acre tract in James Welch and J. Cottle Surveys. This will be in the southwest extension of the Cherokee Navarro Field.

They also plan to drill two and possibly three more wildcats on the Woods lease.

Zimmerman, Fendley and Whitley also have scheduled another wildcat to be located on a 125 acre lease owned by Cecil Hurt and J. R. Hurt in James Cottle Survey.

All four wildcats will be permitted to 4,000 feet and have the Nacatoch as their objective. W. M. Gallaway, a Farmington, New Mexico operator, who drilled in his No. 1 R. R. Fussell as a good producer last month, reportedly has run tests on the well. Potential test figures have not yet been released, but oil patch rumor is that the Fussell produced about five barrels an hour on test, or around 120 barrels per day.

The No. 1 Fussell is located on a 50 acre lease in I. N. Hitchcock Survey.

Republicans Cast 67 Votes In Primary

Milam County Republican voters cast a total of 67 votes in the Party's primary election on Saturday in the two polling places in Cameron and Rockdale.

In Cameron at the Ben Milam School cafeteria 28 votes were cast in the voting boxes for Commissioners Precincts 1 and 2, Buckholts and Cameron, and at the Rockdale High School cafeteria 39 votes were cast in voting boxes for Precincts 3 and 4, Rockdale and Thorndale.

In the only two contested races on the ballot, George Bush received 57 votes to Robert Morris' 10 for United States Senator. And Paul Eggers led by 63 votes to 3 for Roger Martin in the race for Governor.

Panel For Loses State Race PTA Meet Yarborough Carries Milam

An evaluation of 'team teaching' will be the panel topic for Cameron PTA meeting, 7:30 p.m., Thursday (tonight) at Ben Milam Cafeteria.

Mr. Arnett Zelisko will be the moderator for the discussion involving panelists Mrs. Harold Stanislaw, Mrs. Selma Kemp and Mrs. Arnett Zelisko.

Also included in the program will be a demonstration of how the 50 member class works. New officers will be installed.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough Saturday carried Milam County's Democratic primary by 330 votes, slim majority in any previous election for the liberal candidate. It was a trend that saw him defeated in the statewide count by conservative Lloyd Bentsen of Houston.

Yarborough polled 2,199 in Milam County to Bentsen's 1,869.

Yarborough's biggest vote in Milam County was recorded in Pct. 15 (Rockdale) where he received 363 of 502 votes cast. He carried 16 of 26 voting precincts, losing in Cameron by 85 votes.

In 1964 Yarborough carried Milam County with 2,945 votes against his opponent's 1,674 votes when he defeated Gordon McLendon of Dallas and was re-elected to the U. S. Senate. Bentsen, a Houston insurance man and former congressman, will face Houston oilman George Bush, Republican congressman and Republican nominee for the U. S. Senatorial post now held by Yarborough.

Bob Armstrong, who won the state race, was favored with a 475 lead over Incumbent Jerry Sadler as Democratic candidate for Commissioner of General Land Office. Fred Williams of Houston, also a candidate for the Land Office, received 335 votes.

In other contested races: Attorney General Crawford Martin of Hillsboro won easily in the state and polled 2,902 votes in Milam County to his opponent David Brown's 873.

Ben Ramsey won re-nomination as Railroad Commissioner. In the Milam vote, Ramsey polled 2,485, Connie Lawson 1,306. For Associate Justice, Supreme Court Place 3, James MOST everything we know we see in print, not ignoring other media. But on the horror of confrontation and death at Kent State early this week, I know only what I read in other newspapers.

111 used to live in Ohio, as a seventh grader, and a brother-in-law earned his doctorate at Cleveland's Western Reserve, where similar campus reaction continues.

Percentages demanded, sooner or later, that a campus confrontation would end in death for somebody during a meeting of student and authority, this time the Ohio National Guard.

As we understand it, about 400 or 500 students rioted at the presence of National Guardsmen, heaving rocks and other missiles amidst smoking cannisters of tear gas and fixed bayonets.

What brought the Guardsmen in was the burning of an ROTC building on campus. What apparently brought the burning was President Nixon's decision to seek out Cong base camps in Cambodia.

What baffles is that a campus of 19,000 students, likely including parttime and, fulltime enrollees, could yield some 500 students willing to abandon judgment in the face of such force amidst such chaos.

How things have changed in the Midwest. Indeed, how things change.

If parents wonder at a generation gap, which is not so broad to be irreconcilable, they must wonder at the price paid Monday at Kent State.

Perhaps these students were courageous enough to continue the 'charge', ending with a sniper's shot, culminating in the Guardsmen's volleys. The Guardsmen's lives were endangered as well.

Milam: Micro Of Macrocasm . . .

Winning nominee in the three-way race for Texas Land Commissioner is Bob Armstrong, 37, of Austin, a three-term Texas legislator.

He unseated 10-year incumbent Jerry Sadler in the Saturday Democratic Primary by about 20 percent of the vote, winning without runoff against Sadler and Houston's Fred Williams.

His win is being described as an upset. It perhaps best is described as a signal for reform within Texas parties and politics in general.

It is also a signal of the power of print united. Practically every major newspaper and 20 weeklies in Texas endorsed the young Armstrong, unknown outside of Austin six months ago.

The incumbent said just prior to the election he would not have sought re-election but for the fuss raised over the "sunken treasure" episode, his heavy handling of a legislator and a news photographer. The Texas Legislature censured him. And the press came out for Armstrong after his candidacy opened.

An interesting analogy develops over this particular primary election in Milam County and Texas. In a letter to this newspaper, after its endorsement running above endorsements of three Texas daily newspapers, Armstrong noted Milam County is a "bellwether" of Texas politics.

What did the results show? In Texas Democratic primary, some 1,362,266 people voted in that race, most counties complete. In Milam County's Democratic primary, 3,718 voted in that race, vote complete.

The outcome in percentages was:

| TEXAS MILAM |     |     |
|-------------|-----|-----|
| Armstrong   | 56% | 52% |
| Sadler      | 35% | 39% |
| Williams    | 9%  | 9%  |

The results show Milam County is a bellwether state, with this exception. Older people in Milam County tend to turn out, tend to stay with incumbents. They favored Sen. Yarborough over challenger Bentsen by about 300 votes. Other counties like Bell County broke a "Yarborough" tradition by about 800 votes. But both candidates campaigned in Bell County. Neither appeared personally in rural, small-vote Milam County. Tradition held for the incumbent, Yarborough. But tradition broke for the unknown, Armstrong, because of local endorsements and some signboard campaigning in the county.

Another difference, which is why we say reform is the message, is age. Armstrong is 37, moderate to liberal running on a conservation, open-office platform. Yarborough is 66, liberal running on power of tenure and traditional support for popular causes.

Bentsen drew some "silent majority" vote, because he is primarily a self-made man in private life while Yarborough is basically a self-made man in public life. People are flush with taxes, opulent spending in Washington, for whatever cause, and are fast turning conservative. It suggests they are voting not to spend as they find out what is spent in their behalf costs in taxes.

If all this is so, Milam County is a microcosm of the Texas political macrocosm, just as its mix of peoples and power is a complex study in variation.

MHMR Board Seeks A New Commissioner

By Vern Sanford

State Board of Mental Health-Mental Retardation accepted the resignation of State MH-MR Commissioner John Kinross-Wright and appointed a committee to look for a new commissioner.

Committee consists of MH-MR Chairman Ward Burke of Lufkin; Dr. Charles H. Brown, a Wichita Falls psychiatrist; Dr. Robert S. Tate Jr., pastor of the First Methodist Church of Austin; and Edwin R. Van Zandt, Beaumont newspaper executive. First three appointees were among the six board members who had requested Kinross-Wright's resignation. Van Zandt was one of three board members who wanted the commissioner to continue heading the massive (27,000 patients, 13,000 employees) state MH-MR care and treatment system.

Finding a new commissioner will not be an easy task. When the old Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools was converted into the Board for Mental Health-Mental Retardation in 1963—and the new law charged that a commissioner should dictate everything but basic policy—it took many months to find a commissioner. Law also says the commissioner must be a physician.

Finally, Dr. Shervert Frazier of Baylor University Medical College was persuaded to take the job on a part-time basis. That didn't work out well for Frazier, or the system, and Kinross-Wright was lured from the Texas Research Institute for Mental Sciences in Houston three years ago.

His tenure was ridden with strife, as a segment of board members led by Dr. Tate charged that the commissioner neglected the community mental health center program. Controversy flared into a firing when Kinross-Wright asked for the resignation of Deput MH Commissioner Dr. Gary Miller, and Kinross-Wright ultimately bowed out.

Miller literally was waiting in the wings this week (having refused to accept his firing) as a hopeful for the vacancy. Gov. Preston Smith's comprehensive health planning director, Dr. David Wade of Austin, a psychiatrist who formerly headed the Texas Medical Association, was being mentioned as a possibility. But Wade insists he is committed to his present health planning pursuit. Whatever the commissioner does will be subject to criticism by some segments of state mental health and state mental retardation organizations.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I have long known that a farmer, needing a rain, has to be careful where he says so out loud. His neighbor may still be planting and get mad about it, which underscores a sort of unwritten belief that wishing has something to do with the weather. Of course farmers are just going on, but I have found out, this isn't true of economists. According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, some of the nation's leading economists are trying to wish inflation away. One of them, lighting his pipe with a match from a penny box of matches now costing 2 cents, said "the economy should emerge from the current dip on a path of sustainable growth, with inflation on the wane."

What this means is that if things pick up he was right and if they don't, let's talk about something else. But about the best statement came from another economist who said: "The peak of inflation is past and prices soon will be rising more slowly."

That's a statement worth picking up in your hand and rolling around and looking at more closely.

If inflation is ending because prices, while still rising, aren't rising as fast as they did yesterday, that's like saying we're getting closer to dry weather because it didn't rain as much this week as it did last week. It's like a fat man's saying his diet is working because he gained two pounds less this month than the month before. It's like a lawyer's feeling good because he got his client 99 years instead of life. It's like a college student's teaching the administration a lesson in literature by burning down the library. It's like saying automobile pollution is lessening because we're having more wrecks.

I don't see why the economists don't abandon all their theories, get down to bedrock and state flat-footedly that rising prices cause inflation and that unarguably inflation produces rising prices and let's all hope the weather is better tomorrow.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Dear Mr. Luecke:

Thursday, three one-act plays were presented to the public at Ben Milam Cafeteria. The first two were comedies and received . . . laughter. The third was a

NATURAL FIBER STUDY

Chairman Charles Scruggs of the Interim Committee on Natural Fibers appointed subcommittees to assault the problems of the state's natural fiber industry. "Our goal is to add a billion dollars to Texas' farm income in five years," Scruggs said. "That's why we don't just want to write a report. We hope this will be an action committee."

Scruggs named the following to the subcommittee on cotton, wool and mohair export development: Rep. Hilary Doran of Del Rio, Sen. Wayne Connolly of Floresville, Hillsboro Cotton Farmer Dan Pustejovsky, James Powell of Fort McKavett.

drama by Eugene O'Neill, it did not deserve laughter, but it got it. . . . Can it be that many of those present were not prepared for a dramatic production?

Two steps could be taken to provide . . . exposure (to serious drama). . . the school needs a drama department. . . it might also be possible to begin a community theater group. Such a cultural offering. . . could make Cameron . . . more attractive . . . to industrial management personnel and to professional people . . . which this town needs badly.

The second step would be to build an auditorium for the school and community to use. This could be financed jointly by the school and the town issuing bonds. . . it would provide a badly needed place for musical performances . . . the high school gymnasium . . . distorts the sound. . . The gym was built to provide a place for indoor sports.

This auditorium would also serve as a place for plays to be presented. . . could serve also as a walk-in theater which would be no small addition to the town's entertainment facilities.

I realize that such buildings cost money. . . but didn't the new public library and the new Saint Edward Hospital also cost money? We are a community, and communities should act to furnish things for themselves which it would be impossible for individuals to have. . .

Sincerely yours,
Monty Humble

Everybody is looking for a bargain. Here's one you can believe in.

LeSabre Custom

What makes the Buick LeSabre we sell such bargains?

We're dealing, for one thing. Spring is here and we're making up for lost time during those cold winter months when everybody stayed home by the fire.

We're going to make it real easy for you to get into a Buick and celebrate Spring. But that's only part of what makes a bargain a bargain.

What about the car? Can you believe in it?

Every Buick is built with integrity. You get things like a cooling system that should never overheat, even with air conditioning.

You get Buick's unique suspension system—AccuDrive—that makes this LeSabre one of the best handling Buicks ever.

You can even order a 350 cubic-inch, V8. With four-barrel carburetion. That delivers 285 horsepower. Yet runs on regular gas.

So, let's put it this way. If you want a bargain, we've got the ingredients. The car. And the deal.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

PLUMBERS ACTION NO 'PIPE DREAM'

Senator William Proxmire (Wis.) . . . At the 15th National Legislative Conference of AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Conference here in Washington last month, the general president of the United Association of Plumbers and Pipe Fitters, Peter T. Schoemann discussed some of the key problems in housing construction.

"He announced that FIRST agreements had been signed with companies who are constructing housing and plumbing in FACTORIES. Work will be performed within the factories by members of the United Association.

"If others follow his lead, a real revolution can take place in the industry. Prefabricated houses was 30 percent of the single family units built last year. Some believe that half of all housing will be factory built by 1975, exclusive of mobile homes.

"I think it is quite clear from President Schoemann's remarks that he and United Association not only understand the possibilities of such a change in construction methods but that they have taken constructive action and are an integral part in the movement to increase the quality of housing construction.

"One of the oldest myths about housing construction in this country is that the pitifully bad performance in meeting our housing needs is due in substantial degree to the restrictions of the craft unions. This is an old canard which is used as an excuse and a shibboleth by those in the industry and in Government housing agencies to justify their bad record of performance.

"The facts are that while the construction trades are involved in the building of central city office buildings and commercial establishments, they have been only marginally involved in housing construction. The best estimates are that about 80 percent of the housing units in this country are built by nonunion labor.

"Second, in case after case where large-scale building under union auspices is involved, 'project agreements' which provide for the use of new materials and methods have been negotiated.

"Third, vast numbers of alleged restrictions have really been restrictions by producers rather than by unions. Plastic pipe in plumbing is an example. Although the unions are not perfect, they have been criticized for many restrictions which are either mythical or where producers of specific products are the key groups pressing for restrictions. . .

"It is possible that if the cost of money can be held within bounds, we can meet our housing needs. It is possible that industrialized housing, properly used can help meet the problem.

"Mr. Schoemann, and the agreements he and his union have negotiated with industrialized builders of housing, certainly point the way. . .

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The plumbers "didn't forget their tools." They arrived on time, and moved into the construction of prefabricated housing.

Look Ahead To Leisure Emphasis

COLLEGE STATION

The wise use of leisure time should get increased attention in the years ahead, said Reagan Brown, Texas A&M University Extension sociologist.

The average person 35 years from now, he noted, will have twice as much leisure time as the person of today. Either we start planning now for wise use of this time or we pay the consequences, he added.

Brown said that increasing concern for training of our citizens in wise use of leisure time is not just a desire to make people's lives more pleasant for them. Monotony in work and in off hours is a social danger no less than disease, disorder and illiteracy.

Our failure to embrace this belief is raising the crime rate, increasing population in mental hospitals, multiplying physical and moral weaknesses rejected by the armed forces, and raising the percentage of youths who want security at the very onset of their careers and who are afraid of trial and adventure, he stated.

Participation is most important and involves more than just being a spectator to a sport that offers only passive sideline involvement. In addition to what is commonly called physical recreation, participation may be in the form of civic affairs or social services which offer meaningful leisure time activity and satisfying personal experience, explained the sociologist.

He said this does not mean that one's work or profession will be neglected but that life will be looked upon as an entity and preparation for it will be treated as such.

American life in the future is going to be leisure time oriented in contrast to a work oriented past. How well and how soon we adjust to this change will have much to do with our country's future welfare, concluded Brown.

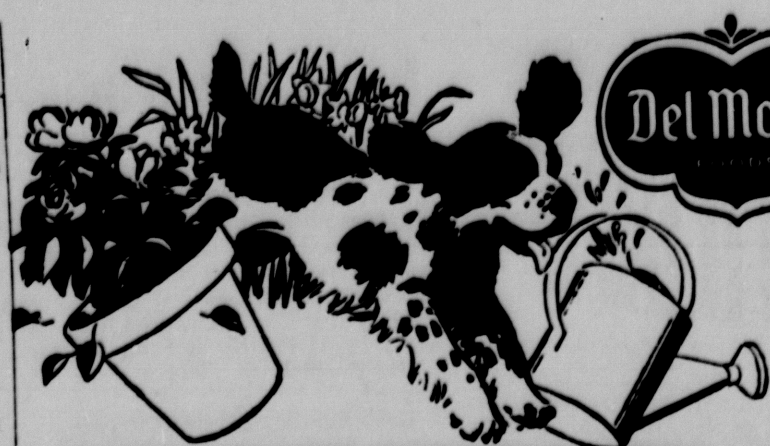

The average contribution to CARE last year was $10.25. Largest was a $61,617 legacy.

Keeping Safety In Insecticides

By J. D. Moore

Today, as never before, "the good things of life," pure water, wholesome food, fresh air - depend on informed, concerned people. Discoveries during the 20th century have given us far more control over our environment than man has ever had. One of the most useful developments has been pesticides - chemicals that control insects, rodents, plant diseases or weeds. These have brought us more and better quality food, greater comfort from insects and rodents, and savings of time and labor in growing crops, ornamentals and trees. Unfortunately, they have also brought the hazard of harmful effects to humans, animals, fish, birds and plants - when used improperly or when permitted to accumulate over periods of years.

MAIN CONCERN

To encourage careful use of pesticides read the label. Each label carries a description of the necessary precautions for handling and gives proper dosage and timing of applications. With the thousands of formulations and materials available for crop protection, a producer or custom applicator can ill afford to rely upon his memory alone to decide which material to use, when to apply it, and what rate of application to use to get the desired results.

It takes only a few minutes to read the label, and these few minutes are always time well spent!

AVOID TRACTOR ACCIDENTS

Time lapse short in tractor accidents - Seven-tenths of a second isn't very long. But, seven-tenths of a second is all the time available to a farm tractor operator whose unit has started to rear backwards under full throttle, says Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer.

Within that time, he can still de-throttle the engine to stop the rearing, he explains. Beyond that fraction of time, there is no stopping the rearing and ultimate upset. And unless the operator is thrown clear, or can possibly jump clear, he is pinned or crushed to suffer serious injury or death.

Or maybe he was one of the lucky ones whose tractor was equipped with a roll bar. "Of a national annual toll of about 1000 lives due to tractor accidents, some 600 are credited to tractor overturns," says the engineer.

"Many could be prevented through the exercise of sensible driving practices," he adds.

Sidewise upsets occur when tractors are driven too close to ditches, holes or embankments. Backward flips occur when tractor-implement hitches are set at a point higher than the center of the rear axle, or when the load exceeds the tractor's power to move it. At such times, the tractor employs its own power to create the rearing and backward flipping motion.

A roll-over bar, sometimes called a protective frame, can be designed to serve as a crush-resistant cab to provide operator comfort. But its primary purpose is to protect the operator from serious injury in the event the tractor tips.

"Many a capsize tractor was prevented from tipping more than 90 degrees because a roll bar was there to stop it and many a tractor operator was spared serious injury because he was strapped into the tractor seat when a roll bar bore the weight and bulk of a tractor that reared and fell over backwards," explains the engineer.

Safety specialists estimate the yearly toll of 600 lives lost to tractor overturns could be reduced by some 450 just through the use of roll bars.

SCREW WORM ALERT ISSUED FOR STOCKMEN

Stockmen are advised to double their alert for screwworms, following the confirmation of Texas' first case in 1970 last week.

The case was found in Brooks County. The nearest known case before that was some 150 miles to the south in Mexico.

Officials of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission said this is evidence that the screwworm flies are beginning to move.

TOWN and COUNTRY

Storm Damaged Trees Need Immediate Care

Trees damaged by violent weather during spring and early summer should get immediate attention.

Storm damaged limbs or branches should be removed immediately, advises Everett Janne, Texas A&M University Extension landscape horticulturist.

When a limb or branch must be removed in its entirety, the Extension specialist says to make the cut flush with the tree trunk or limb from which it is growing.

Also, he says paint all wounds with a good tree wound dressing to prevent the entrance of disease or insects into the freshly made cut.

The job of removing large limbs can be simplified and damage to the bark can be prevented if care is exercised, says Janne.

He suggests making a cut from the underside of the limb about eight inches from the main trunk. Make this cut at least one-third of the way through the limb or until the saw binds.

FARMERS ADD ACRES TO ACRES

Expansion-minded farmers buy most of farm land in the U.S. In 1969, farmers increasing their acreage accounted for 81% of land transactions in Northern Plains; 63% in Corn Belt; 60% in nation as a whole.

Rodeo Teamsters Rack Up Trophies

The 1970 Cameron Yoe FFA Rodeo Team traveled to Hillsboro, Clifton, Bryan, and Rockdale during the last three weeks to compete in their favorite sport -- rodeos.

The team members were full of spirit and eager to bring home as many trophies as possible.

Some were competing for the first time while others have been participating for several years. However, the long-time riders were just as nervous as the beginners.

Winners at Hillsboro include: Steer Saddle - 1st place - Richard Burnett, Donnie Tucker, and Ben White; Rescue Race - 3rd place - Richard Burnett and Donnie Tucker; and Rescue Race - 4th place - Timmy Tucker and Ben White.

Dr. Adams To Lecture At Baylor U

The Dawson Lectures on Church and State, sponsored annually by the J. M. Dawson Studies in Church and State at Baylor University, will bring Dr. James Luther Adams to campus May 7 and 8.

Adams, professor of social ethics at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, Mass., will speak twice on the theme "Church, Community and State." He will speak at 11 a.m. May 7 on "The Churches and Social Reform" and at 8 p.m. May 8 on "Civil Disobedience: Its Occasions and Limits."

A question-and-answer session will be held after the first address. Both lectures will be held in Kayser Auditorium.

Some of the world's foremost authorities on matters of church-state relationships have spoken at the university since the series was inaugurated in 1960.

Adams' special interest is in the area of the application of religion to social life and the arts. Some of his former students from the South at Harvard Divinity School formed an organization to combat white racism in the South, FREE--Fellowship for Racial and Economic Equality--in 1969.

A native of Ritzville, Wash., Adams holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Minnesota, a bachelor of sacred theology and master of arts degrees from Harvard University, a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Chicago, a doctor of divinity degree from Meadville Theological School and a doctor of theology degree from Marburg University in Germany.

Then make the second cut from above and several inches farther out on the limb and continue cutting until it can be removed.

Make the final cut, he says, flush and parallel to the main trunk. Then apply tree wound dressing to the exposed surface.

If trees around the home do not get immediate attention, warns Janne, they may fall victim to insects and diseases which can enter through the damaged areas.

ASCS News

By Alva E. Sanders

A total of 35 farms in Milam County have requested measurement service this spring. Actual measurement has been completed on almost all farms that requested the service, and the balance of the measuring should be done in the very near future.

Measurement service is offered by the County ASCS Office to farmers who have signed up in the wheat, feed grain, or cotton programs, and it is a sure way to know if you are in compliance with the acreage requirements of the programs.

The county office is getting geared up now to process final payments for the 1970 cotton, wheat, and feed grain programs so farmers will receive them as soon as possible after July 1. The speed up in payments is being made so that farmers will receive their total payments earlier than in the past. The step-up applies not only to voluntary

Supermarket Offers Shopping By Phone

A supermarket selling solely by telephone will open July 4 in San Diego, Calif.
The store publishes a shopper's guide for in-home selection and has a fleet of 75 delivery trucks which guarantees delivery within four hours.
The general manager of Tele-Mart said the system will provide fast, convenient, low-cost home delivery of most popular items normally found in conventional supermarkets.

Brush Control Projects Can Aid Wildlife Habitat

AUSTIN
A five-day tour of Texas ranch and farm lands by a Texas Parks and Wildlife representative has revealed to the Department that "brush control" does not always have to imply a loss to persons interested in wildlife.
Bob Carlisle, administrator of technical programs, recently toured much of south and south central Texas with several members of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.
The purpose of the trip was to gain a better understanding of SCS programs and practices in order to improve cooperation between the three agencies and their interests.

Carlisle said that Texas SCS representatives are making a conscientious effort to make brush control projects consistent with good wildlife management, and that in many instances brush control has actually enhanced wildlife habitat.

"There are over 220,000 significant farm and ranch operating units in the State, and approximately 189,000 of these are district cooperators (of the SCS) and have basic conservation plans which are in effect to one degree or another," says Carlisle.

The Soil Conservation Service is a Federal agency which, when given the opportunity, assists farmers and ranchers in enhancing the utility of their land, including wildlife, through proper land management practices.

"The SCS has tried to discourage landowners from the complete clearing of brush when ever a landowner seeks their aid. Increasingly more often, SCS in cooperation with the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is successful in convincing the landowner to improve or enhance the wildlife habitat through brush management rather than complete control," according to Carlisle.

The Labor Department's vast manpower experience is being used as a weapon in the war against crime. Because of its interest in offender rehabilitation, the Department has successfully experimented with several offender assistance programs. Magic Kitchen Menu Provides Gourmet Dinner In 20 Minutes

A gourmet dinner in 20 minutes? Use some modern kitchen magic — convenience foods — and it can be done! Here's a good menu.

The main course is a wonderful new packaged dinner, Lipton Chicken Supreme, an enticing combination of chicken and rice in a creamy sauce flavored with sherry wine. The liquid sherry comes, precisely measured, in its own packet just like the three other ingredients in the package.

Simply stir it into the sauce as the last step to add a perfect gourmet touch. During cooking, the alcohol evaporates; only the essence of wine remains to richly flavor the dish. Chicken Supreme takes only 20 minutes to prepare, requires only one pot for cooking.

Use convenient bottled dressing for the salad. And for a beautiful dessert, serve brandied peaches with luscious lemony-tea flavored whipped cream, easy to make with flavored iced tea mix.

Nature's Prize Beauty -
Single Potted Hyacinth

Mirror, mirror on the wall. What's the fairest flower of all? A little reflection might reveal that the hyacinth is nature's prize beauty.

Although the hyacinth is good company for other flowers in a bouquet, it makes a lovely loner. A single potted hyacinth is a complete composition in itself. Beautiful balance gives the hyacinth a perfect profile from every angle.

Whenever you choose potted hyacinths at a flower shop anytime from now until the end of May, be sure to select plants that are still tight in the bud. The flowers will soon bloom, and you'll enjoy their blossoms and heady fragrance for the plant's full life.

Like all living plants, hyacinths need moisture for their roots. The soil should not be allowed to dry completely. On the other hand, an over-abundance of water is not favorable. The best approach is to check frequently on the condition of the soil and add water moderately every day or two.

Hyacinths should be kept in a cool place, away from radiator heat and the baking rays of direct sunlight. A fairly cool and light area is ideal.

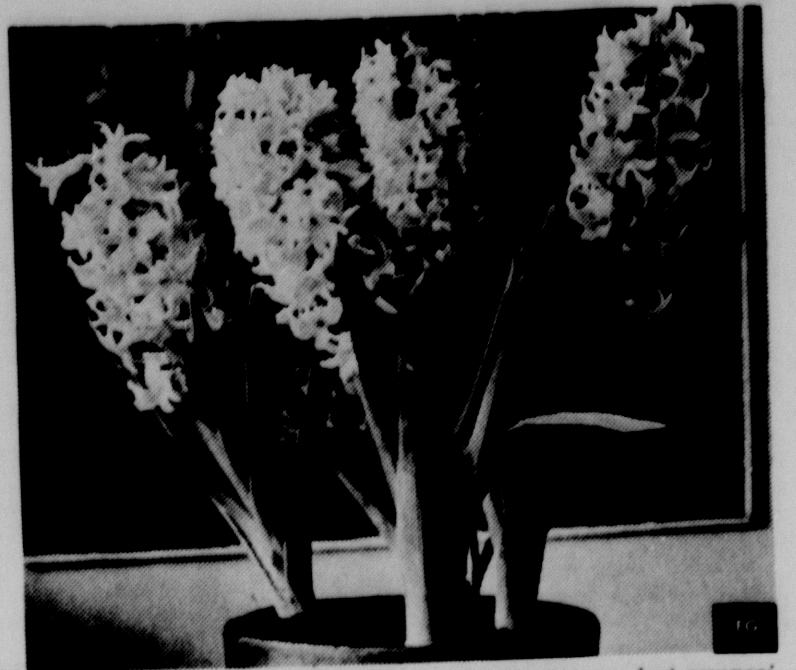

If hyacinths are left to their own devices too long, the blossoms may droop—but don't despair. Just tie the stem loosely to a stake. If you use a colorful silk or velvet ribbon, the tie will become a decorative detail of the potted floral design.

Pots of one to four hyacinths are instant home decorations.

When company comes, they create colorful Spring-scape floral settings without any demands on the busy hostess' time. A single potted hyacinth also will become a conversation piece if you use it cleverly as a doorstop.

If you have a stairway, library steps or a three-step kitchen ladder, line it with pots of hyacinths in a variety of colors—soft yellows, pinks, lavender and blues or the bright whites, reds and oranges.

Because the hyacinth performs so well on its own, it is sometimes forgotten when arrangements of cut flowers are made for the home. Actually the hyacinth is a very good mixer, and its sturdy stem makes for particularly easy arrangement work, even for the amateur.

The hyacinth, one of nature's fairest flowers, is a perfect composition from every angle. Select potted hyacinths when they are still tight in the bud to enjoy the flowers' full life. A single potted flower or a mini-garden of four hyacinths will give any room the beauty and fragrance of Springtime.

In Holland, homemakers favor baskets lined with metal or glass containers for arrangements of mixed Spring blossoms. Taking a tip from abroad, fill a narrow rectangular bread basket with hyacinths, daffodils and tulips for a space-saving centerpiece.

In the living room, a larger round basket brimming with hyacinths, plus irises and daffodils for height, can be set on the floor near a now quiet fireplace—to show that Spring is surely here.

Mince Meat Spices Chicken

If this savory casserole looks good enough to eat, it's not an accident. The Borden Kitchen developed Spicy Chicken to be as good as it looks. The glorious concoction consists of crisply browned pieces of chicken, small, white pearl onions, and carrot pieces simmered together in a red wine sauce which boasts the tangy goodness of ready-to-use mince meat. The mince meat, which gives spice to the recipe, also can be used to spark vegetables, left-overs, sauces and gravies or other kinds of meat dishes.

Serve the spiced chicken with hot buttered noodles or rice. Oven-warm biscuits and a crisp tossed salad can complete the menu.

Spicy Chicken (Makes 5 to 6 servings)

|---|---|
| 1/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour                | 2 tablespoons dehydrated parsley flakes                       |
| 1 teaspoon salt                                 | 1 cup red wine  |
| 1 (3-lb.) broiler-fryer chicken, cut up         | 2 1/2 cups (one 28-oz. jar) None Such Ready-to-Use Mince Meat |
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil                     | 2 teaspoons salt  |
| 1 lb. small white pearl onions, peeled          |   |
| 5 medium carrots, pared, cut into 1-inch pieces |   |

Combine flour and salt; coat chicken pieces with flour mixture. In Dutch oven or large skillet, heat oil. Brown chicken pieces on both sides over high heat. Remove chicken from skillet. In same oil, saute onions, carrots and parsley, about 1 minute. Pour in wine and mince meat. Add the 2 teaspoons salt. Return chicken to sauce; bring to boil. Cook over low heat, about 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Serve with buttered noodles.

Head Start Announced

D. R. Dodson, Superintendent of Cameron Independent School district, announced two Head Start programs have been approved by Office of Economic Opportunity.

Five and six year old children will be enrolled first, with eighteen to a section.

The school has applied for three additional Title I head start programs, and if enough funds are available, a program will be added for four year old children.

The head start program is expected to get underway by June 1.

Dodson said there would not be a remedial program this summer. "Not enough interest was shown in the program last year to continue it," he said.

How far can a student go in this country before he is felled by volunteer soldiers from his home state, perhaps the same town? Kent State students, perhaps wittingly abetted by one sniper's shot from atop a campus building, learned.

In effect, are the students not attacking themselves?

Recurring student rebellion continues in Japan where the nation, because of World War II, has not had a real army. Observers there say the college students have organized with helmets, shields and sticks, a sort of student phalanx which is drilled for street confrontation with Japanese police.

It is suggested that students are fulfilling a need to show prowess in street combat when, in fact, they object to violence in theory. Are these Japanese students demonstrating a human need of combat, of testing in a humanitarian era?

Are American college students, denying, in extreme, support for combat in an "immoral" Vietnam War, only to demonstrate their prowess and courage against authority at home? On campus?

Did they really think someone would pull a trigger? On campus? Would they have continued the charge off campus? Is violence moral here and immoral there?

Do they, in fact, forget how these institutions were built and for whom?

Maybe the aftermath at Kent State will resolve these questions.

New Developments Give Home Screening a Boost

NEW YORK (AP) Two important new developments have given residential screening a boost. One is the addition of color; the other a new type of screen that lets in the light but keeps out glaring sun rays.

Color screens add a new dimension in harmonizing the color scheme on the exterior of homes. Trim and the screens can be matched in certain color ranges. Or, perhaps a contrast between the color of the screens and shutters will provide just the right

Bills To Ask Date Change For Primary Elections

Several bills to change the primary election dates will be introduced in the next session of the Texas Legislature, Rep. Dan Kubiak said this week.

In his weekly newsletter, Kubiak noted that a decade ago the primaries were held in July and runoffs in August.

The election dates were changed by the 1959 Legislature to help Lyndon B. Johnson "who wanted to get a resounding 1960 primary renomination as U. S. Senator out of the way before seeking the presidential nomination at the Democratic national convention in August," he said.

Several reasons favor changing the primary dates, Rep. Kubiak said:

1. It is difficult to maintain the collective voter's train of thought from the primary in May to the general election in November, and

2. It is difficult for all but the most "high roller" to sustain a campaign organization for the long haul of nearly a year.

POSTAL RATES

Rep. Kubiak said his office has called for a "more realistic" shift of burden of the cost of mail service from first class mail to third and fourth class mail, although it is a federal question.

"We feel the first class rate . . . should be left alone as much as possible, and certainly not go over the eight cent proposal," he said.

"Any changes in rates could be passed only by a two-thirds vote of both Houses of Congress. There should be a minimum of a one-third increase for third and fourth class mail, the file 13 trash mail we receive each day," Kubiak said. "This is the mail that is overloading the system."

Most outdoorsmen have at one time or another suffered from poison ivy . . . that irritating, itchy skin rash that seems to spread with every scratch.

Here's a simple prescription which will provide much desired relief: Mix 25 Aspirin tablets and two ounces of camphor gum in a pint of rubbing alcohol . . . and apply to infected part of the body twice daily.

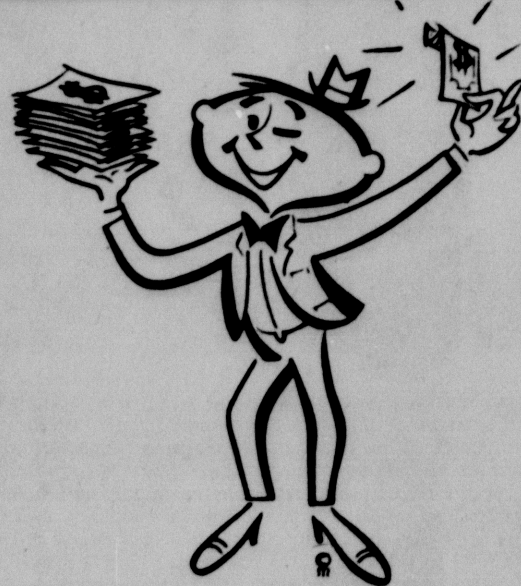

This poisonous ivy plant is an American climbing plant with a somewhat vinelike habit. Actually, it is a species of sumac, with leaves in groups of three. It is poisonous to many persons merely by touch.

A variant name of the poison ivy plant is poison oak or poison sumac.

It can be identified by its trifoliate leaves, greenish flowers, white berries and an irritant oil. It is the oil which renders the herbage poisonous to touch.

"Poison Sumac" differs from "poison ivy" in that the form is a shrub or tree usually six to eight feet tall, and is found in the swamp lands. Its leaf-stalks bear clusters of smoothly greenish yellow seed pods.

The whole plant is poisonous to taste or touch. Give it wide berth!

touch to set off one house from another.

The screen that lets in the light but keeps out the sun—along with flies and other insects—looks different from traditional screening. Instead of employing a typical wire mesh, the new screen is equipped with thousands of tiny openings. The openings act as shades to prevent the sun from directly gleaming thorough. Much as an awning keeps out direct sunlight, the new aluminum screening:

1. Reduces the fading of rugs, drapes and other fabrics.
2. Keeps interiors cooler, an important factor in reducing the cost of air conditioning.
3. Eliminates the annoyance of having the sun glaring in your eyes.

These new products also have all the other advantages of regular screening made of aluminum. They won't burn, rot or sag, won't stain the exterior of your house.

This is Oldsmobile's year at Indy.

Isn't it your year for an Olds?

The knowing folks at Indy just named Olds 4-4-2 official pace car for this year's 500.

For good reason. Olds is not only an excellent performer, it's a winner in looks and ride as well.

The fact is, every 1970 Olds is a pacesetter. And it goes far deeper than performance

You find it in great engineering. In exceptional comfort. In ride and handling that are outstanding. And in the solid quality and dependability you've come to expect from Oldsmobile.

In fact, it's this quality that leads many people to believe that Olds is priced out of their reach. A mistaken notion that might keep you in an ordinary car, instead of an Olds.

The truth of the matter is that many Olds models are priced right down with the low-price names.

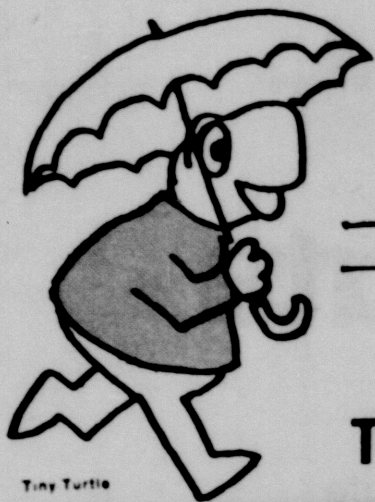

Now that you have the facts, isn't this your year to go Oldsmobile? You can probably do so for no more than what you've been paying. See your nearest Olds dealer!

Labor Dept. Projects 1980 Economy Profile

WASHINGTON

The profile of an economy with 100 million workers—producing 60 percent more goods and services for Americans in 1980 than in 1969—is presented in new projections released by Commissioner of Labor Statistics Geoffrey H. Moore.

These projections—covering productivity, gross national product, employment, and labor force—represent a comprehensive effort by the Labor Department to help industry, government, and the educational community plan for the manpower challenge in the decade ahead.

These projections by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and their implications are discussed in the April 1970 "Monthly Labor Review." Among the findings are:

— half of growth in the labor force will be among young workers, age 25-34. The Negro labor force will increase by one-third;

— the labor force participation of women will continue to increase, especially among those in early childbearing ages;

— the educational level of the labor force will rise substantially;

— productivity, advancing steadily if at a slightly slower pace than in the 1960's, will increase 3 percent a year;

— industry employment will have continued to shift toward the service industries, including trade and government; and

— occupational employment will have continued a long-term shift towards the white-collar occupations and those requiring the most education and training.

The article is a preview, limited for the most part to the major sectors of the economy.

A more complete summary bulletin containing additional statistical detail covering employment in over 250 individual industries and detailed occupations will be published in the late spring.

Further publications and articles will present more refined analysis and more detailed information on the various methodologies followed.

May Observance . . . Senior Citizens Month

May celebrates Senior Citizens Month in Texas and the rest of the country. . . for the eighth time.

Presidents Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon have issued proclamations each year since 1963 honoring those people 65 years and older.

The movement actually began in 1953 when New York celebrated May as Senior Citizens Month.

When the movement to select a month for senior citizens began to shape up in the early 1950's those first leaders were impressed with trends in longevity and the increasing life span.

They believed that a senior citizens month observance nationally would emphasize this new fact: older persons would be recognized for their judgment, skills, experience and wisdom; outstanding service by senior citizens could be recognized; it was very important to begin early in life to prepare for the senior years and that such a celebration could tend to discourage or counteract the tendency to segregate older persons as a group apart.

Most people credit a Fort Worth woman, Miss Anna C. Leahy who was director (in 1956) of Senior Citizens of America, as the one persons who so diligently pursued the idea. She is credited, also, with persuading President Kennedy to sign the first proclamation.

In 1959 thirty-nine state heads proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month and nationwide observance was sponsored by the Senior Citizens of America. By 1960 forty-eight states participated in the observance.

Finally in 1963 the hope for recognition of older Americans came with the first presidential proclamation.

This year 207 Texas county committees on aging will re-proclaim May as Senior Citizens Month and hold suitable affairs in honor of it.

Following the early pattern for celebration, states, counties, and communities were and still are urged to implement special programs, activities and events to honor senior citizens.

"In Texas we use two special activities more than others: the proclamation and the selection of outstanding senior citizens of the county or community," according to Minnie Bell, Extension specialist for aging at Texas A&M University.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service works with the Governor's Committee on Aging to implement activities for Senior Citizens on the county level.

Some of the other aims dealt with unifying agencies and groups working on needs and problems of the aging; to help familiarize senior citizens with services from government, private and educational institutions and to encourage home, school, church, community, state and nation to take cognizance of the senior citizen and his worth in the society.

Controlling Cockroaches

The misconception that cockroaches live only in slums is, of course, blithely ignored by cockroaches! If the climate and conditions are right, they'll move right in. Banker's residence, or bum's, it is all the same to them.

Cockroaches are hardy, agile, and can adapt to almost any living pattern. They are also dangerous, since they carry filth on their legs and bodies and may spread disease by polluting food. Roaches have also been identified as carriers of many bacteria that affect the intestinal tract.

Like man, cockroaches prefer an abode that is warm, moist and private. They may enter the house from adjoining homes or apartments, in infested containers from other buildings, or by hitching a ride on firewood.

Seek Favored Spots

Once inside, they quickly scurry to such favored spots as: inside walls; appliances; behind cabinets or window and door frames; in cupboard corners; cracks in the floor; under linoleum; under sinks; behind loose boards or molding strips; inside stoves or radio and television cabinets; behind radiators; and under garbage receptacles.

The latter habitat is natural since garbage is one of their favorite foods—next to accessible gourmet foods, of course. Cockroaches have, however, been known to subsist handsomely on book bindings, wallpaper, glue, paper paste, wool, leather, carpets and other household or stored items.

The secret of ridding one's self of these pests lies in maintaining good sanitation and treating the areas most likely to harbor them.

Unique among roach sprays, because it is not a poison, is Warpath Roach Killer from —vertical, horizontal, under-sides, etc., and holds well to such metals as wood, glass, masonite, linoleum, aluminum, galvanized sheet metal, cast iron, cloth, paper and all types of painted surfaces. It adheres equally well to roaches and other insect's bodies. Where the appearance of powder may pose a problem, a roach trap or traps may be easily made by spraying paper plates and placing a broken moist cookie in the center. Set plates at night and remove in the morning.

So if cockroaches attack your home, you can control them easily, simply by going on the warpath yourself!

Many Drivers Making Rounds In Golf Cars

NEW YORK (a)—Thinking about buying a second car? How about an electric golf car?

Call it a fad, call it funny, but it's better than even money that you'll find golf cars parked under car ports in many areas of the country, particularly retirement cities such as Sun City, Ariz., Rancho Bernardo, in San Diego, Calif., Long Beach, Calif., and Sarasota, Fla. The cars are used to go to the hairdresser, grocery store, and, obviously, to the golf course.

Many of the newer cars are built with extruded aluminum I-beam frames. Their gross operating weight, with batteries, is only 840 pounds. The aluminum frame eliminates rust, corrosion and requirement for painting.

TREATS FOR YOUNG READERS are in good supply at the Cameron library, as shown by this attractive display of children's books.

Scientists believe 4 P.M. is the best time of day to spray cockroaches. Insects are evidently more active then than at any other hour. Be sure to direct spray to such hiding places as under linoleum, behind loose boards, inside walls, appliances, stoves, or radio and television cabinets.

d-Con Company. It is non-toxic to humans and pets, and lasts seven months or more if not disturbed. Because it is non-toxic, it is excellent for home use. A mechanical killer, Warpath removes the waterproof waxy layer from an insect's skin causing abnormal fluid loss from the body, leading to death.

Spray All Areas
Water is a fundamental requirement for insect survival. They can lose large amounts of fat and protein and still live, but even a small amount of water loss can cause death.

Spray all areas where roaches are seen, or "runs" they might be likely to use regularly. When first sprayed, Warpath is clear and colorless. It quickly becomes white and slightly powdery looking but does not spread or blow around. Although easily removed with a damp cloth, it is highly adherent to all surfaces

"OH, MY ACHING BACK!"

Many occupations are conducive to backache, such as truck drivers, mailmen, baseball players, draftsmen, plumbers, and many others. There are twenty-six movable bones (called vertebrae) in the spinal column. A draftsman, for instance, bending over his board, can cramp one or more of these bones out of line. This creates pressure on nerves that carry nerve energy to organs and tissues of the body. When the displaced vertebrae are adjusted, flow of nerve energy is normalized. The cause of the ailment is removed and the pain more often than not disappears.

The Greeks knew about it. . . Hippocrates, the father of healing, said, "In cases of illness look to the spine first." If you are suffering from this or similar conditions you should consult your chiropractor immediately. Call today for an appointment to see if yours is a chiropractic case.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS
Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Your Voluntary Association
"Open your mind, your heart, your hand to the mentally ill," says the Mental Health Association in calling attention to this year's mental health month: the month of May.

Although many people know about the Mental Health Association, many others do not; and it is worth reminding ourselves, for those who know, and worth learning about, for those who don't, that the network of your local and state mental health associations throughout the country represents the private and individual, voluntary sharing in the nationwide attack on mental illness.

The problem of mental and emotional illness, striking some 3,000,000 and costing $20 billion a year, obviously requires all the resources we can provide—private as well as public.

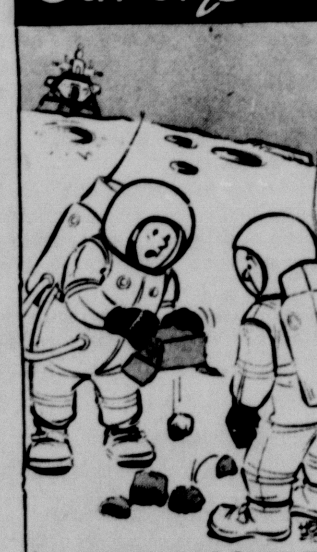

Joining with professional societies, such as the medical society and psychiatric, psychological, social work, and nursing organizations, with local, state, and national government agencies, the voluntary association in your community or state—and the National Association for Mental Health at the national level—performs essential and indispensable roles in fighting mental illness and promoting mental health.

Some of the vital roles include these:

Helping improve hospital care, Mental Health Association volunteers bring direct services, gifts, and friendship to patients.

Adequate rehabilitation services can cut readmissions to mental hospitals from 35 percent to 10 percent; such services are often carried out through help of the Association, aiding through social clubs, halfway houses, and work training and employment programs.

Mental health associations also help initiate, support, and operate critically needed community facilities and programs, such as community centers, counseling clinics, and walk-in clinics, as well as day-care residential.

U.S. Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Service
Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I didn't claim any exemptions for myself last year and I still came up short when I filed my return. Is there any way I can have more taken out of my pay?
A) Yes, you may ask your employer to withhold additional amounts from your paycheck. You should get a new withholding certificate, Form W-4, from your employer, fill it in and file it with him.

Q) I have a refund coming and I just remembered a deduction I forgot to take. Should I put in for it now or wait until my refund comes?
A) You can make an adjustment in your 1969 return now, even though the refund on your original return has not arrived. To make this change, complete a Form 1040X and send it to your IRS service center. This form and instructions are available at local IRS offices.

You will notice that Form 1040X only calls for information relating to that part of your original return you wish to change. It is not necessary to provide all the information required on the Form 1040 you filed.

Q) Do you have any information about audits? My neighbor was just called in and I'd like to be ready if I have to go in too.
A) Yes, Publication 556, Appeal Rights and Claims for Refund, should be helpful. Send a post card to your District Director to obtain a free copy.

Q) When we cleaned house this Spring, we found a lot of things we didn't want and gave them to a local charitable group. Can we deduct anything for these items?
A) Yes, a charitable deduction is allowed in the situation you describe. You should keep a statement or other record that shows the date of the gift, its fair market value, description of the property and the name of the organization that received the item. This information will also be helpful should your return be examined.

Pay Gains
Offset By
Price Rise

The purchasing power of the Nation's rank-and-file workers was virtually unchanged in March, as gains in average take-home pay were offset by the continued rise in consumer prices, the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported.

Gross weekly earnings increased to $117.55 in March, a gain of 68 cents from February, and $5.88, or 5.3 percent, from a year earlier. The over-the-month gain resulted from a 0.1-hour increase in the workweek and a 1-cent rise in hourly earnings.

After adjustment for price increases, gross weekly earnings were only slightly above a month ago but were down 0.7 percent over the year.

Spensible earnings, or average weekly pay after deduction of social security and Federal income taxes, increased by 53 cents in March to $103.10 for the worker with three dependents. Compared to March 1969, take-home pay was up by $5.34, or 5.3 percent.
Real spendable earnings—take-home pay expressed in 1957-59 dollars to reflect consumer price changes—were about unchanged at $77.40 in March for the worker with three dependents.

Real earnings were 0.6 percent below the March 1969 level and 2.8 percent below the record high reached in September 1968. Over-the-month gains in purchasing power among workers in contract construction and manufacturing were countered by declines in mining, trade, and finance, insurance, and real estate.

dental, and special school programs for emotionally disturbed children.

Special education materials are developed and seminars are conducted for clergymen, police officers, business and industrial executives, and for other groups whose members frequently come in contact with people who have emotional problems.

There are only a few examples of your voluntary Association's roles and activities. They show why the Association asks for your support, focusing attention on May as mental health month. But the Mental Health Association's needs—and its services and programs—are not restricted to one month in the year. They are continuing, day and week and month in and out.

THE CAMERON HERALD

The average home should require painting about every four years, but because of the unsightly rust streaks left by conventional nails some homeowners cry for the brush a few months after the last coat of paint dries.

A paint job costs about $400. Most homes built with conventional nails demand repainting every two years. In twenty years, the life span of the average mortgage, this frequent repainting can cost the homeowner $4,000.

Aluminum nails, however, never rust, adding years to the life of a paint job. The reason?—a corrosion resistant oxide which forms naturally on every aluminum nail.

With these nails the homeowner can stretch the life of his paint job to four, sometimes five years, cutting the cost of repainting in half—a savings of $2,000.
